

Alaa ahmed aljohani 2307355

Lab activity

System requirements

The system shell validate data before saving it

The system shell store boat and user data in a database

The system shell registers boat and user information

The system shell tracks boat location in real time

The system shell sends alerts to users when needed

The system shell display exact boat location on map

The system shell generates reports